foeldeak – Innovation by Tradition

foeldeak Training Dummy teamsport made by SUPLES Ltd.

How often does it happen that the higher talent has the lower budget? Not every club is supported by a big sponsor, and not every athlete who practices combat sport for fitness reasons can or wants to get into the pro league immediately.

Thus, foeldeak has developed with the TrainingDummy fitness exactly the adequate workout partner. Head and body – that have to take the main load – are made of sturdy technical calf leather (up to 1.6 mm). The combination with highly resistant artificial leather makes the dummy more elastic which is very advantageous in fitness combat sports.

Hence, the foeldeak TrainingDummy fitness is hand-stitched and provided with the anatomically correct weight distribution, just like its „big brothers“, teamsport and professional.

A foeldeak TrainingDummy fitness is exactly the right exercise device to perfect throwing and turning movements, clamping methods and boxing blows and to automate motion sequences.

The TrainingDummy fitness is available in two different versions: with stump and two arms to practice grips and overhead throws, or with two legs and two arms for combat sports where hip and legs are allowed to be touched. All types are available in different sizes and weights. This means the optimal dummy for every body height and proficiency level.
